Welcome to the 2020 Envirothon Season—our 35th Anniversary. This year we share this celebration with the 50th Anniversary of Earth Day—the planet’s “largest civic observance in the world.” With over one billion people participating in Earth Day activities each year, the Envirothon fits right in. We too strive to create environmentally-aware and scientifically-literate citizen conservationists. Let’s make this a year to remember!

Sponsored by the York County Conservation District, the Envirothon provides our school students with a chance to participate in the longest-running, most successful Environmental Educational program in North America (now international at the Senior High level). Our sponsors have made this unique program available to York County schools for over three decades. We hope you will join us again. If you are new, we welcome you.

York County still leads North America in Envirothon participation. Year after year we observe students as they progress on school teams from 3rd through 12th grades, many going on to college and choosing careers in conservation. All thanks to this distinctive extra-curricular school program. We know the Envirothon works.

But college and careers are not the only goals of the Envirothon. Teamwork, friendship, study & logic skills, nature appreciation, and just plain fun, are all part of this program.

Please look over our sponsorship packet. Numerous sponsorships opportunities for individuals or businesses are available. We thank you for your continued commitment to York County’s natural resources and the young people who will soon be entrusted with its care.
